Projects

Detection of Abnormal Movement in Elderly People

- At its core, this project is to design and implement a real-time abnormal motion detection system to monitor the physical activity of elderly people. By analyzing motion patterns using an MPU6050 accelerometer sensor, the system detects abnormal activities such as falls or erratic movements and sends immediate alerts to caregivers through SMS notifications. The ultimate goal is to minimize response times during emergencies and improve the overall quality of life for elderly individuals.

- Key Components Used: Arduino Uno, Arduino IDE, MPU6050 Accelerometer, GSM Module

Job Portal

- Here I made the use of HTML, CSS and JS for the frontend and NodeJS for backend to handle database operations. It's main features are Employer dashboard, Jobseeker dashboard, Job search and filtering.
- Tools Used: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, NodeJS

E-Commerce Product Listing

- Here I made use of HTML for the product listing page, CSS styles to the HTML elements to achieve the desired design, JavaScript functions to handle interactions.
- Tools Used: HTML, CSS, JavaScript
